India and America: 250 Years of Shared Destiny

About Legacy 250

Legacy 250 celebrates America's 250th anniversary by telling the powerful story of 250+ years of India–U.S. connections — our shared past, dynamic present, and bold future.

From trade, ideas, democracy, and culture to science, technology, entrepreneurship, and people-to-people ties, Legacy 250 is a yearlong national movement to honor history and inspire the next generation of India–America partnership. Legacy 250 is an initiative of Mass India Partnership, a not for profit organization registered in Boston Massachusetts.

Legacy 250 is an international educational, cultural, and public diplomacy initiative commemorating:

- The 250th anniversary of the United States (1776–2026)
- More than 250 years of historical, intellectual, cultural, and democratic connections between India and America

The initiative brings together:

- Universities
- Museums

Why Legacy 250 Matters

As America approaches its 250th anniversary, Legacy 250 highlights a broader global story:

- How ideas traveled across civilizations
- How democracy evolved
- How immigration reshaped nations
- How India and America became strategic, cultural, and intellectual partners

The initiative also seeks to preserve and communicate overlooked histories connecting the two nations.
